

COVID-19, Cal/OSHA, and Agriculture... What You Need to Know as an Employer

It is important for employers to understand exactly what their responsibilities are with respect to worker health and safety during this current pandemic. While Cal/OSHA does not have specific regulations regarding COVID-19 for the agricultural industry, it has existing regulations that employers must comply with to ensure worker health and safety during this pandemic. This webinar, designed specifically for the agriculture industry, will address employer responsibilities to effectively implement their Injury and Illness Prevention Program (IIPP), COVID-19 Plans, and industry best practices to allow your essential employees to work safely. These webinars are intended for business owners, managers, and supervisors. The webinar will cover:

- What safety regulation(s) might be triggered?
- What are the employer's responsibilities with respect to the regulation(s)?
- What if we cannot maintain at least 6 feet distance between employees?
- Are we required to provide workers N95 respirators?

There is no charge to attend but space is limited. You must register in advance to reserve your space.

DATE	TIME	LANGUAGE	REGISTRATION*
Thursday August 27, 2020	8:00 AM to 12:00 PM	English	SFVConsultation@dir.ca.gov
Wednesday September 2, 2020	1:00 PM to 5:00 PM	English	TBD
Thursday September 3, 2020	8:00 AM to 12:00 PM	Spanish	TBD

*Please provide your name, company name, email address, and webinar date when registering. A confirmation email will be sent to the email provided with a link to the webinar.

Speakers: Carmen Cisneros and Dan Leiner

Carmen Cisneros has been the Area Manager of the San Diego Cal/OSHA Consultation Services Branch since 2013. Prior to that, she was an Associate Safety Engineer with Cal/OSHA's enforcement office. Carmen has over 19 years of experience in the safety and health field working with various industries including agriculture, construction, landscaping, and manufacturing. As a Safety Engineer, she worked on high profile and complex cases.

Dan Leiner is currently the Area Manager of the San Fernando Valley Cal/OSHA Consultation Services office in Van Nuys. He started his career with Cal/OSHA in 1994 as an industrial hygiene consultant with Cal/OSHA Consultation's Santa Fe Springs area office before becoming an Area Manager in 2000. Dan has over 30 years of experience in the health and safety field as an industrial hygienist working in the aerospace industry, on a Los Angeles County lead-using industry outreach project, and with Cal/OSHA Consultation. Dan holds Bachelors and Master of Science degrees in Environmental and Occupational Health from California State University, Northridge.

If you have any questions, please email SFVConsultation@dir.ca.gov